Hold-Fast Paper Clips

The Hold-Fast Paper Clip, on account of its shape and the stock used in making it, is the strongest of paper clips, may be used over and over again, and never breaks nor loses its shape. It is quickly applied or removed, and on account of the absence of points and sharp angles does not tangle or tear or mutilate the paper. It costs no more than inferior clips, and holds with equal firmness either two or forty sheets, and may be used on the corner of the paper as well as at the top of the sheet. Its shape makes it difficult, if not impossible, for it to pick up other papers from the desk or letter-file. For these and other reasons of equal importance it is the best selling clip in the United States and is endorsed by the Government departments at Washington, U. S. A.

Tooth Picks

The rapid accumulation of knowledge in dentistry has been followed by a corresponding growth of interest in civilized countries in the teeth and the care of them. Tooth picks, formerly a luxury, have grown to be a necessity. Incidentally, civilization's interest in things sanitary has condemned metal tooth picks as injurious to the teeth, and the quill tooth pick, or any other tooth pick made to be used again, as distinctly unclean and unsanitary. Dentists and doctors recommend the long, tapered wood tooth picks intended to be used and thrown away.

they are inexpensive, they may be sampled freely and will practically sell themselves.

Write for samples of cinnamon, peppermint, sassafras, aromatic and velvet tooth picks. We will accompany them with a small combination sample order offer that cannot be equaled. In the tooth pick line in America we have little or no competition. World's Fair quality, a round pick, is our best.

Barometer Inkstand

The Barometer Inkstand consists of a covered well in which the pen is dipped, and a glass dome or reservoir which will hold ink fresh for months, as it is absolutely dust-proof.

The illustration shows the inkstand being filled. In the filling there is no danger of spilling the ink and as the dome or reservoir is of white glass, it is possible always to see how much ink there is in the well.

It is made with a rack for pens as well as without the rack. Both kinds are ornamental and durable. Either costs very little more than the ordinary inkstand and either will pay for itself in a short time in the saving of ink. It sells quick on account of its practical features and novel appearance.

Pencil Sharpener

The Government Duplex Self-Sharpening Pencil Sharpener has

two distinct parts and functions. In the top part is a steel knife that cuts the wood. The bottom is a cylinder lined with corundum which turns and points the lead. It will make any point desired from a chisel shape to a hair line point. The corundum cylinder is almost indestructible and as it is closed at the lower end, the lead shavings are prevented from falling until the user is ready to dump them. The sharpener is attractive in appearance, and sells readily.

Elastic Penholder

The particular virtue of the new Elastic Penholder is the fact that its firmness coupled with elasticity largely prevents the hand from growing cramped or tired in writing. It is made from the best of hard rubber and has patent ventilating sides. The last improvement makes it impossible for the penholder to slip, as a penholder does frequently when covered with perspiration. The same horizontal ventilating slits make it impossible for the ink to climb upon the fingers. It is also equipped with adjustable tenon. This penholder is made in three sizes and two colors, and although it has the practical improvements enumerated it costs no more than ordinary and inferior holders.

ISSUED IN CONJUNCTION WITH

Western Union Telegraphic Code System

THE International Cable Directory of the World is unique as a Directory. Besides furnishing the cable addresses of tens of thousands of prominent corporations, firms and individuals throughout the world, it brings all classes into close touch with one another. Merchants and manufacturers by its use place themselves conspicuously before buyers and sellers in all parts of the globe. For this reason alone it stands pre-eminent.

The International Cable Directory of the World is issued in conjunction with the Western Union Telegraphic Code and consummates a system by which the cost of domestic and intercontinental telegraphic communication is reduced to a minimum.

A most important feature of the former publication is the list of cable registrations alphabetically arranged and beginning on page 897. By using these cable addresses one can transmit complete firm names, street addresses and cities in one or two words, whereas in plain language several times that number would be required. The list will prove of immense advantage to users of the wires who desire to obtain that information without loss of time. As this method is often employed, it is well to refer to the list when deciphering messages if words are found therein which do not appear in the Code.

The Directory is constantly referred to and read by millions of persons during each year. Not only are copies in the hands of tens of thousands of subscribers, but they may be found also on file in telegraph and cable offices, railroad and steamship companies, chambers of commerce, and the embassies, legations and consulates of the United States throughout the world, for the free use of the business public. It is a standard work which meets with recognition in every part of the globe.

Attention is directed to the business classifications, beginning on page 601, printed in English, German, French and Spanish, which must prove of immeasurable assistance to people of different nationalities, thus enhancing the international character of the publication.

The cost of registering, or of securing space in the advertising pages, is small—infiniteesimal, indeed, compared with the results to be attained. The circulation each year reaches such vast proportions, the Directory offers the advertiser at a nominal outlay a most profitable medium for introducing products to attention and making known their merits.

While the publishers exercise every care in the compilation of cable registrations, business classifications, etc., etc., they do not hold themselves responsible for typographical errors.

Subscribers are strongly urged to announce on their letter-heads (rubber stamps for the purpose will be furnished gratis) that they use the Western Union Code. This will mean a material saving in telegraph and cable tolls to all concerned.

The INTERNATIONAL CABLE DIRECTORY OF THE WORLD contains the Rules, Regulations and Tariffs governing cable telegraphic correspondence on business transmitting to and from the Eastern and Western Hemispheres. The Berne list, or official names of telegraph offices, is added to the list of cities, etc., on pages 7 to 20, and is also placed under the names of the cities, etc., in the alphabetical list of names, beginning on page 101 and ending on page 564. Special attention is directed to the fact that the combination of the city and its locality is only charged for as one word, but when the locality is in parentheses () the words contained therein must be paid for. For example, if a party in India wishes to cable an individual or firm in Bristol, Tennessee, and he should place the party's name and after it Bristol, the cable would be forwarded to Bristol, England; but by referring to page 8 he will find we have five Bristols, viz.: in Connecticut, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Virginia, and England. Bristol in Tennessee and Bristol in Virginia being divided only by the State line and the Telegraph Company's office being located in Tennessee, all cables for Bristol, Virginia, should be addressed to Bristol, Tennessee, and will be delivered from there, Bristol in England being recognized as the "Bristol." To distinguish the other Bristols the Cable Companies decided some time ago to allow the names of the States and Territories in which they are located to follow the name without charging extra for designation. The same rule applies to other cities in both hemispheres, and all messages addressed as per pages 7 to 20 in the first lines will be accepted as one word, even though they contain two or more words, except those in parentheses (), as previously explained.

To avoid errors in cabling, a message should be clearly written, or, when feasible, typewritten, as the majority of errors are due to the fact that the operator is unable to decipher the writing, especially when using private messages or code words or language foreign to the operator. Read the rules and regulations on pages 60 and 61 and tariff rates on pages 62 to 77, which rates are subject to alteration without notice.

Rules for counting and charging Domestic Telegrams exchanged between one point and another within the United States of America and Canada, and for International Telegrams exchanged between Mexico and the aforementioned countries, adopted by the Telegraph Companies of North America and by the Mexican Government for the Mexican Telegraph Lines. See page 77.

THE ONLY UNIVERSAL CIPHER SYSTEM

The development of trade and manufactures in the United States progresses with such remarkable rapidity each year that increasing facilities for its conduct between this country, Europe and the Far East are demanded and must be complied with. Competition to capture a larger share of foreign trade is now so keen among our manufacturers that any improvement in communication, orally or by wire, is welcomed and supported. We refer particularly to the telegraph and telephone. The cost of telegraphing and cabling, while small in consequence of competition and intelligent handling, is an item that steadily commands the attention of Chambers of Commerce, Boards of Trade and, in fact, all commercial bodies. The men in control of vast telegraph and telephone systems are probably the ones most active in furnishing all the facilities in their power to the business public.

Telegraphic Codes have played an important part in this connection, but the requirements of the business world were not met in a satisfactory manner prior to the introduction of the Western Union Telegraphic Code. Codes previously in existence, while better than none, were utterly inadequate to meet the needs developed by the gigantic strides made by financial, commercial, legal and industrial interests in both hemispheres during the score of years just past.

An unbiased comparison of the WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPHIC CODE with any other similar work will readily demonstrate the unquestionable superiority of the former. In order that users may obtain the utmost advantages to be derived from the WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPHIC CODE, the publishers suggest that they consult the index when coding messages, as in many instances the desired phrase may be found in the tables and special matter under the rear pages.

Adopted officially by the United States Government for the Embassies, Legations and Consulates throughout the world, and by the various departments of the Canadian Government, for the promotion of export trade, increased attention is directed to the Western Union Telegraphic Code System, the publishers of which have worked strenuously and successfully to reduce the cost of telegraphic communication to a minimum.

Copies of this most valuable publication have been placed not only in Western Union Telegraph Company offices in this country and Canada, but also in the offices of the Western Union, Direct United States and Anglo-American Telegraph Companies abroad, and in the offices of the West India and Panama, International Ocean Telegraph Company, Cuba Submarine, Central and South American, Distrito Federales, Eastern Telegraph Company, Eastern Extension, and other important cable lines. The Western Union Telegraphic Code is known as the only Universal Code System. Attention is directed to the following copy of an official communication issued by the State Department of the United States.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE
WASHINGTON

THIS IS TO SAY: That copies of the INTERNATIONAL CABLE DIRECTORY OF THE WORLD and WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPHIC CODE are to be placed in the embassies, legations and consulates of the United States on, or soon after, July 1, 1902, for their use for the accommodation of Americans abroad, and for the promotion of commercial relations with the United States by residents of other countries.

(Signed) DAVID J. HILL,
Assistant Secretary of State.

April 22, 1902.

There is not another agency or publication extant in any part of the globe that has furnished to the world a Code acknowledged to be without a competitor, besides guaranteeing its patrons a vast saving in the transmission of communications by wire as compared with any other similar work.

It is no longer necessary to keep on file a dozen or more codes. The Western Union Telegraphic Code answers every purpose and has supplanted the older, more expensive and less efficient publications.

Our Pocket Edition for Travelers is unique. It is an exact facsimile of the large Western Union Code in miniature, having been reduced by photographic process to a size of $5\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{2}$ inches. The type, while small, is clear and distinct.

It is important to ascertain whether the code is on file at the particular telegraph or cable station desired, and also to inform your correspondents in advance that you intend to use the Western Union Code when communicating with them by wire. In this way senders of messages will avoid unnecessary risks.

THE INTERNATIONAL CABLE DIRECTORY COMPANY is ever ready to secure for its clients information of value to users of the wires. In return it respectfully suggests when our readers correspond with firms or individuals whose names are taken from the Directory they will accord us the favor of mentioning the name of this publication. If this plan is generally adopted it will work to the common benefit of all concerned.

CABLEGRAMS

RULES, REGULATIONS, AND TARIFFS

GOVERNING CABLE TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE ON BUSINESS TRANSMITTING TO AND FROM THE EASTERN AND WESTERN HEMISPHERES

RULES FOR COUNTING AND CHARGING TELEGRAMS

Conditions must Be Signed

1. The conditions upon which telegrams are accepted should be carefully read, and must be signed by the sender or his representative.

Telegrams without Text

2. A single telegram may contain any number of words from two upward. The name and address of the receiver must consist of at least two words. Telegrams without text are admitted.

Place of Origin

No charge is made for transmission of the name of the office of origin, nor for an indication of any particular route that may be given by the sender and considered necessary by the Telegraph Administration.

Place of Destination

The official name of the telegraph office of delivery, as given in the first column of the Berne List, and completed by any indications which appear in that column, and the name of the country, together with its territorial subdivision, each counts as one word, irrespective of the number of letters employed in either case.

Plain Language

3. In telegrams in which the text is written entirely in plain language the maximum length of a chargeable word is fixed at fifteen letters. Should a word contain more than fifteen letters, every fifteen, or fraction of fifteen, letters is counted as a word. When the letters ch come together in the spelling of a word they are counted as one letter.

Code Language

4. Code Words must not exceed ten letters in length, and must be taken from one or more of the following languages:—English, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Dutch, Portuguese and Latin.

Code language is composed (a) of real words not forming comprehensible phrases, and (b) of combinations of letters having the appearance of real words.

(a) The real words (which must not exceed ten letters in length) may be drawn from any of the following languages:—English, French, German, Dutch, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese or Latin. Consequently, the words contained in the Official Vocabulary for Code Telegrams prepared by the International Telegraph Bureau at Berne will be available for the purpose, with the exception of any words exceeding ten letters in length inserted in that publication in error.

(b) The combinations of letters (which must also be within the limit of ten letters) must be pronounceable according to the usage of one of the above-mentioned languages.

Combinations of letters which are not pronounceable will be treated as letter cipher and counted at five letters to the word.

Commercial marks and abbreviated expressions in current use (such as tmrl, clif, fga, sags, rsvp) will also be counted at five letters to the word.

Combinations or alterations of words contrary to the usage of the language are counted in accordance with the number of words which they would contain if they were written in the usual manner.

Proper names may only appear in telegrams written wholly or partly in code language so long as they are used with their meaning in plain language. At the same time proper names which appear in the official vocabulary may be admitted with a code meaning.

Cipher

5. Cipher telegrams may be composed either wholly or partly of figures, or of letters or groups of letters, or of a combination of words and figures, or of words and letters, but the mixture of figures and letters is prohibited.

6. The groups of figures are counted at the rate of five figures to a word, plus one word for any excess. The same rule applies in counting groups of letters.

Mixed Language

7. Words in plain language inserted in the body of a mixed telegram composed of words in plain language and words in preconcerted (code) language, are counted as a word up to ten characters, any excess being counted as a word by indivisible series of ten characters. If the mixed telegram contains in addition a part in cipher, the parts in cipher are counted according to Rule 6.

If a telegram is composed partly of plain language and partly of cipher language, and does not contain preconcerted (code) language, the parts in plain language are counted according to Rule 3, and the parts in cipher language according to Rule 6.

8. Names of towns and countries; surnames belonging to one person; names of places, squares, boulevards, streets, and other kinds of public places; names of ships; whole numbers, fractions, decimal or fractional numbers written entirely in letters and compound words admitted as such in the English and French languages, and which can, when required, be justified by a dictionary, may be respectively grouped as one word each. They are counted according to the 10 or 15 letter limit.

Signs of Punctuation

9. Words joined by a hyphen or separated by an apostrophe are counted as so many separate words.

10. The following are counted as a word:—

Each initial to a personal name.

Each separate letter.

Each supplementary instruction, such as—R. P. 15—

An underline.

Parentheses (the two signs which serve to form it).

Inverted commas (distinctive signs placed at the beginning and end of a single word or phrase, thus: " ").

11. Signs of punctuation, hyphens and apostrophes are not counted or transmitted.

12. Decimal points, commas, bars and dashes used in the formation of numbers, and bars of division, are each counted as a figure.

Ordinal Numbers

13. Letters added to figures to form ordinal numbers, as well as letters added to figures to designate the number of a house in an address, Rules, Regulations, and Tariffs Governing Cable Telegraphic Correspondence.

are each counted as a figure, in the group in which they occur, thus:—

129th (five figures).....1 word
195A (four ").....1 "

Such instructions must be inserted as a part of the address, and be paid for. An additional charge of fivepence will be made if the telegram is sent by post to a country other than that of the terminal telegraph station.

16. The sender is responsible for an incorrect or insufficient address. Corrections and alterations can only be made by a fresh telegram, which must be paid for.

Prepaid 17. The reply to a telegram can be prepaid, the sender determining its length. The words Replies "REPLY PREPAID x," or the indication "R. P. x" the number of words paid for being specified, must be inserted in hyphens immediately before the address, that is, as a part of the address and before the text or body, and must be charged for.

The indication "—R. P. x—" counts as one word.

Should the reply contain more than the number of words specified and paid for, the sender of the reply must pay the excess.

If the original message cannot be delivered, the terminal station will inform the sender of it by a notice containing the reason of non-delivery.

18. Upon arrival of a telegram to which a reply has been prepaid, the receiving office will forward to the addressee an order containing the number of words for which a reply has been paid, upon presentation of which the reply is accepted without further payment. This order is good for six weeks from date, after which the reply must be paid for as an ordinary telegram. The amount deposited by the sender for a reply will, in this case, be returned to him, upon the receiver, before the expiration of the limit of three months from date of issue, returning the order to the office which delivered it, accompanied by a request for the amount to be refunded to the sender.

Repeated 19. The sender of a telegram at the time of Telegrams filing may order it repeated, in which case the various offices en route repeat it to each other as it passes. The words "REPETITION PAID" or the indication "T. C." must be inserted in hyphens immediately before the address, that is, as a part of the address and before the text or body, and must be charged for. A quarter rate additional is charged for the repetition.

The indication "—T. C.—" counts as one word.

Acknowledg- 20. The sender of a telegram, at the time of ment of filing it, may request that notice of the date and Receipt time at which it is delivered be transmitted to him by telegraph. The words "ACKNOWLEDGMENT RECEIPT," or the indication "P. C." must be inserted in hyphens immediately before the address, that is, as a part of the address, and before the text or body, and must be charged for. The indication "—P. C.—" counts as one word.

If the telegram cannot be delivered, the terminal station informs the original sending station of it, by a notice containing the reason of the non-delivery.

The charge for an "acknowledgment of receipt" is equal to that of a message containing five words.

Corrections 21. Every telegram exchanged between two telegraph offices at the request of the sender or receiver, to rectify or complete a telegram already transmitted or in course of transmission, will be charged for at full rates. The addresses of these telegrams are not charged for.

22. The charges will be refunded without delay to the person who paid them if it be found that the telegraph service has been in fault.

23. No return of charges will be made upon the original telegram which has been directed in this manner, and no claim for rectifications obtained direct between senders and receivers will be entertained.

Complaints 24. All complaints respecting irregularity in the transmission or delivery of telegrams should be made by the sender, and addressed to the administration or company to which the telegrams were handed, and, in cases of non-delivery, must be accompanied by a declaration in writing, from the receiving station, or from the addressee, to the effect that the telegram has not been received, and in cases of error or delay, the complaint should be accompanied by the addressee's copy of the message.

Every claim must be made, under penalty of rejection, within five months of the date of the telegram.

Multiple 25. Telegrams containing multiple addresses Telegrams are not admitted.

TELEGRAMS

Rules for counting and charging Domestic Telegrams exchanged between one point and another within the United States of America and Canada, and for International Telegrams exchanged between Mexico and the aforementioned countries, adopted by the Telegraph Companies of North America and by the Mexican Government for the Mexican Telegraph Lines in effect December 1, 1909.

PROPER FORMS TO BE USED.

RULE 1.—Telegrams submitted for transmission must be written upon the “form” or “blank” prescribed by the Telegraph administration for that purpose or must be attached to that form in such a manner so as to leave the printed caption in full view above the message when written.

WORDS TO BE COUNTED AND CHARGED FOR.

RULE 2.—The Telegraph Administrations of the United States, Canada, and Mexico require, that Messages should be written in words taken from the Official Vocabulary or in words taken from any one of the following languages: English, French, German, Dutch, Italian, Portuguese, Spanish and Latin. Each and every such word will be counted and charged for as One word.

Initial letters, surnames of persons, names of cities, towns, villages, states, territories, and the names of the Canadian provinces will each be counted and charged for as One word.

Abbreviations of the names of cities, towns, villages, states, territories and provinces will be counted and charged for the same as when written in full. In the names of Countries or Counties, all the words used to express them are counted and charged for, each as One word. Abbreviations of weights and measures, figures, decimal points, bars of division (see examples which follow), will also each separately be counted and charged for as One word.

GROUPS OF LETTERS AND FIGURES.

Each letter and each figure will be counted and charged for as One word.

In ordinal numbers, the affixes St, d, nd, rd, and th, will each be counted as One word.

Groups of letters, when such groups do not form Dictionary words, will be counted at the rate of five letters, or fraction of five letters to a word. When such groups are formed by combining Dictionary words, each Dictionary word will be counted and charged for as One word.

The following examples illustrate the application of this rule:

Registered Cable Code Addresses are not accepted as sufficient address in Domestic telegrams. The Telegraph Administrations of North America invite full and ample Addresses in order to facilitate prompt delivery. Registered Cable Code Addresses, therefore, must not be used.

The Official Vocabulary is a voluminous compilation of words arranged alphabetically, and taken from the eight languages authorized for use in telegraph correspondence, and published by the International Telegraph Bureau, at Berne, Switzerland, for general use in the compilation of Telegraph Codes.

The Western Union Telegraphic Code (Universal Edition) is made up exclusively of words taken from the Official Vocabulary, and as a consequence conforms strictly to the Rules laid down not only by the Telegraph Administrations of the United States and Canada, but is in accord with the rules and regulations prescribed by the International Telegraph Convention of Lisbon, of 1908, to which all Government Telegraphs and Telegraph Administrations throughout the world conform and adhere to.

From New-York Tribune

The International Cable Directory Company has just issued its Universal Edition of The Western Union Telegraphic Code, which is the most comprehensive and exhaustive work of its kind yet published. The Universal Edition comprises about one hundred pages of technical terms and phrases applicable to various branches of trade and manufacture. This is the first time such phrases have ever been embodied in a general code. A novel feature of the work is the placing of the book in the principal offices of the Western Union Telegraph Company, in all cities and towns of 2,000 population and upward, in the United States and Canada, and also in the offices of the Western Union, Direct United States, Anglo-American, French, Eastern, Central and South American, and other cable companies on both sides of the water, the object being to establish what the name implies—a "Universal Code."
